An investigation into the workings of the Countract system prevailing in many of the Northern prisons develops the fact that it is a falure. The necessity for the abolishment of the system is pointed on it, and it is usufficiency as a revenue to the State demonstrated. It is proposed that States should employ their own convicts. In the Clinton prison of New York, where the contract system has been abolished, the advantages accruing the refrom have been so great that it is thought that it will be done away with entirely in all of the prisons of that State. In Sing Sing, where this system of contracts is in force, the failure of it has been of contracts is in force, the failure of it has been clearly shown, and from the facts and figures given there is but little room for doubt but that under a different transgement that prison would be a source of revenue instead of expense.

Nothing unusual transpired to mar the harmony in the working of she money market. So long as the cast for money do not maserially inecrease, the banks will be able to supply the wants of their friends. The rates have made no changes, 9 and 18 per cost, being the buctuations. Excusaval—On New York has been more quiet. Our merchants have generally made good the Eastern accounts, and the demand is consumed by the banks themselves. Prices are held at fifty cents prevaium selling.

GOLD—The offerings of gold have been in excess of the demand. Under a falling course, buyers are disposed to hold off in their purchases. Coupons are appearant to interpre quantities than the coun itself.
